WORK EXPERIENCE

Senior Public Information Specialist November 2023 – Present

County of Riverside Executive Office | Office of the CEO

Management | Riverside, CA

★ CAPIO Award Winner | CSAC Innovation Award | PRSA Polaris Award

- Serve as a senior communications strategist for a county of 2.5 million residents, operating directly under the County Communications Director and CEO, providing strategic guidance, approvals, and direction to communicators across 40 county departments and the Board of Supervisors.
- Invented and architected the RivCoONE internal communications strategy from the ground up: a countywide culture change initiative for 23,000 employees built around a no wrong door service model. Personally developed the strategy, trained all 12 cross-departmental communications professionals on goals and messaging, and serve as the sole decision-maker and direction-setter for the program.
- Delivered public speaking engagements representing the county on RivCoONE, the countywide budget campaign, and equity communications, presenting to internal staff, department leadership, and external stakeholders.
- Leverage AI tools including Claude, ChatGPT, Copilot, and Gemini to augment production of news releases, video scripts, talking points, media responses, communications plans, and social media content, improving speed, consistency, and quality across all deliverables.
- Host and lead countywide PIO meetings, presenting communications updates and strategic projects to PIOs across all 40 departments, serving as the central hub and standards-setter for county communications.
- Directed ADA-compliant website implementation in accordance with new California state law requirements, coordinating across departments and IT to ensure all county digital properties meet accessibility standards.

- Respond to special project requests from the Board of Supervisors, including communications planning for national observances, executive messaging, and high-priority county initiatives, often under tight turnaround windows.
- Oversee countywide budget communications campaign, including a resident survey deployed to 2.5 million people, leading outreach strategy, media pitching, earned media coordination, and CEO talking points.
- Draft time-sensitive media responses to countywide crises and inquiries spanning animal control, child welfare, voter rights, and public health emergencies, all subject to CEO-level review before release.
- Lead equity communications program, overseeing an internal publication spotlighting departments advancing equity and working directly with department heads to identify and elevate equity stories.
- Curate and manage social media content for the County of Riverside's official accounts, developing an employee-as-influencer strategy that activates county staff as authentic storytellers, humanizing county government and driving organic community engagement.
- Apply a metrics-first approach to all campaigns and communications projects, consistently analyzing performance through social media insights, email open rates, website views, reach, and engagement data to measure impact and refine strategy in real time.

Public Information Specialist May 2023 – November 2023

Riverside University Health System – Public Health Department

Media Relations and Administration | Riverside, CA

- Reinstated department's Instagram presence, growing account from zero to nearly 1,000 followers with 2,600+ monthly interactions.
- Served in the county's Emergency Operations Center (EOC), providing communications support including content curation, video editing, social media writing, talking points, and website copy.
- Produced the department's monthly Public Health Update broadcast in partnership with RivCo TV, managing all logistics from guest identification to graphics and social distribution.
- Managed daily executive communications needs, crisis communications planning, and media inquiries from reporters seeking statements from program directors and public health physicians.
- Scripted, recorded, and edited video content including graphics and lower thirds for departmental programs and executive presentations.
